

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An attitude control system is disclosed for geostationary satellites including elongate members such as solar generators and/or antennas, in particular deployable members. The system includes gyroscopic actuators 5 for supplying the torque necessary for maintaining the attitude of the satellite when subjected to disturbing forces or torques. The gyroscopic actuators preferably maintain a setpoint attitude during orbit correction phases.